The course is intended for degree students of the University of Helsinki who are completing or who have completed Finnish 5 or Finnish 6 courses or who otherwise have a sufficient level in Finnish (CEFR B1). The aim is to strengthen and activate the student’s language skills in order to improve both oral and writing skills. Participants practice fluent writing in Finnish and discuss various current topics and matters relevant to the students' everyday life. They write different kinds of texts and do a variety of oral exercises. In addition, the course consists of listening and reading tasks, which will support the student’s own productive tasks. In order to complete the course, one needs to attend the classes regularly (at least 75%) and to do the oral and written tasks given during the course. Grades 0–5
