BACKGROUND

BACKGROUND

The University of Zambia (UNZA) was the First Public University in Zambia. It was established by the University of Zambia Act of 1965. The University was then opened in 1966 and Zambia's First Republican President Dr. Kenneth David Kaunda was installed as Chancellor on 12 July, 1966. On 13th July 1966, the Chancellor laid the Foundation Stone for the University of Zambia on the Great East Road Campus.

The University began with Three Schools; Humanities and Social Sciences, Education and Natural Sciences. Due to high demand for other skills, New Schools were added and the University currently has thirteen Schools. The additional Schools include:- Agricultural Sciences, Engineering, law, Mines, Medicine, Veterinary Medicine, Health Sciences, Nursing Sciences, Public Health and the Graduate School of Business .

In its first academic year the University enrolled 312 students. The numbers rose to over 1,000 in 1970 an ten years later stood at over 4000.

Dr. Kenneth Kaunda, as the new Chancellor, laid the foundation stone for the University of Zambia on the Great East Road Campus on 13th July 1966.

It was envisaged that eventually the total enrollment would level off at about 8,000 students. The enrollment figures as per current academic year stands at about 28,000 students. This includes those from Parallel and Distance Programs.

UNZA celebrated its illustrious history of 50 years under the theme: "50 Years of Service and Excellence" from 29th May 2016 to 3rd June 2016.

RESEARCH

DIRECTORATE OF RESEARCH AND GRADUATE STUDIES (DRGS)

UNZA lays much interest on the Publication of Local and International Journals and Research papers under the Directorate of Research and Graduate Studies DRGS..

It also deals in International research affiliations with mostly post-graduate students or researchers who do not take UNZA courses, but wish to be affiliated to UNZA while pursuing their own research towards studies at their own University.

DRGS also coordinates postgraduate programmes in all the 13 Schools of the University of Zambia.

INSTITUTE OF ECONOMIC AND SOCIAL RESEARCH (INESOR),

This is a centre for Social Science Research of the University of Zambia.

COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENTS

UNZA's unflinching commitment to community engagement is indicated by the first word of the University's Moto 'Service'. It is evident in a quotation from UNZA's First Chancellor and Founding President of the Republic of Zambia, Dr. Kenneth David Kaunda, which reads; “Let this legend of Higher Learning be always remembered that the good that shall come out of this place shall be for the greater glory of the poor people upon whose sacrifice this University was built”.

Since its establishment in 1965 (but begun operating in 1966), The University of Zambia through its various Schools and Departments, has been keeping up with its motto of Service and Excellence while successfully engaging various sections of the Zambian Society, which include helping the underprivileged in society such as vulnerable children in Orphanages and Hospitals, conducting Research, Designing Courses that are responsive to the various needs of the Zambian Communities and Quality Assurance in Teacher Education.
